

Prep Schools battle To-Day

PUBLIC SCHOOLS PLAY FOOTBALL

Norfolk and Richmond High Schools Battle For Tidewater Championship To-Day.

John Marshall High School, winner of the local prep school championship, will meet the Norfolk High School at Broad Street Park this afternoon. The game beginning at 4 o'clock. The battle will be for the prep school championship of Tidewater. Along with the Norfolk school will come a small army of rooters, as many of the pupils have signified their intention of being on hand to cheer on the seaside boys.

The team which will represent the local public school system is confident of winning the game. Coach Johns has been putting the team through hard practice ever since the victory over McGuire's, and says that the eleven is in better shape to-day than at any time during the present season. Every man on the team is in prime condition and ready to give battle to the finish.

It is by no means a cinch that the local eleven will win. Norfolk, earlier in the season, played William and Mary to a standstill, though considerably outwitted. Since that time the team has been improved. The youngsters are on edge for a battle royal and will contest every inch of ground. A capacity crowd is looked for at the ball park. Both teams are popular, and while those on hand will be largely supporters and rooters for John Marshall, Norfolk will be well represented.

Every pupil at the High School will pass through the gate, and coming with them will be parents and brothers and sisters, all of whom will be thoroughly imbued with the proper spirit.

Certainly no game played here this year should prove of more interest. Each member of each team is an embryo star, and the time is not far distant when some of the names of the men on these prep teams will loom large in football history. Remember that on these teams are some of the youngsters who will be out there next year or the year after, and will have the material to make valuable additions to any college squad. They should be encouraged, and the prospects materially substantiated.

Yancey Returns to University. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Harrisonburg, Va., November 16.—Komper Yancey has completed his last season as coach of the Hampden-Sydney College football team, and left this morning for the University of Virginia to resume his studies. He has been visiting his mother here on South Main Street. Coach Yancey has played the four-year limit at the university and is no longer eligible for the Virginia eleven.

BLOOD TROUBLES CONSTITUTIONAL INFECTION

Constitutional Blood Poison is the most insidious of all diseases. It begins in an insignificant manner, usually the appearance of a tiny sore being the only outward evidence of its presence. But down in the blood the treacherous infection is at work, and in a short time its chain of symptoms begin to crop out. The mouth and throat ulcerate, skin eruptions break out, sores and ulcers appear on the body, the glands in the groin swell, and sometimes the hair comes out. Mineral medicines cannot cure Constitutional Blood Poison; they only shut the disease up in the system to smoulder and await an opportunity of breaking out afresh. The only possible way to cure the disease is to REMOVE the germs from the blood. S. S. S. goes into the blood, and while removing the infection makes the blood pure, fresh and healthy. This causes a general upbuilding of the entire system, and when S. S. S. has made a cure there is no return of the hideous symptoms. S. S. S. is made entirely of vegetable matter, containing not the least particle of mineral in any form. It is a perfectly safe medicine and a certain cure for blood poison. We have a Home treatment book which we will be glad to send free to all who write and request it, also any medical advice without charge.

HEARKEN, ICE SKATERS! MAN WILL BUILD RINK

But He Wants to Know How Much Support He May Count On—Is Anxious to Invest if There Is Enough Local Interest.

Even if the spirits which dwell in the region from which the Aurora Frost-King is said to spring and the Frost-King pass us by, Richmond will be given an opportunity to invest in ice skating. The plan is to build a rink in the city, and in the building to install a plant for making artificial ice.

It will not be an ice factory, nor will the machinery be as elaborate as is needed to make ice for domestic consumption. Just a veneer of frozen water is needed to make ice skating possible. Old inhabitants say that there was a time when indoor ice skating was popular locally. On the site now occupied by a Broad Street department store there was probably the largest skating rink in the country at the time. Of course, ice skating was not always offered the patrons.

Many Want to Skate. For a large part of the year, plain, everyday roller skating was the only attraction. But when the elements were perverse, and the lakes and other bodies of water in the vicinity of Richmond failed to freeze, ice skating was offered indoors.

Naturally the investor is much interested as to the number of days during the winter months when the water freezes. It will mean a considerable outlay to make the institution popular and to have it constructed in the most

YOU CAN PICK WINNER AFTER GAME SATURDAY

When Richmond College Meets William and Mary at Ball Park, Dopesters Will Be Able to Figure Eastern Collegiate Championship.

A game of football of more than passing interest will be played at Broad Street Park on Saturday, when Richmond College meets the team from William and Mary, the game beginning at 3 o'clock. While neither of these teams can win the eastern intercollegiate championship, yet both will be anxious for victory. The question of college supremacy in athletic ability in the game which will decide the championship. Randolph-Macon has defeated every team in the association except Richmond College, and the Ashland lads won over the locals in an ante-season game. The championship

POULTRY SHOW AT FRONT ROYAL

Splendid Exhibits Made—Governor Mann Delivers Address.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Front Royal, Va., November 15.—The first annual exhibit of the Front Royal Poultry show took place last night and to-day with a large crowd in attendance.

The exhibition was under full sway, and over 600 different breeds of birds from Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and Alabama were on exhibition for the first prizes of their kind. W. Theo Whitman, of Allentown, Pa., was the judge, and at the conclusion of his work he delivered an address to the poultry fanciers on the care of chickens. His host, Governor Mann, of Virginia, was a guest today of the association, and he delivered an address, speaking of the aggressiveness of the younger generation of Virginians, their duty and their worth to the Commonwealth. Messrs. Wright and Percy, and Messrs. Jones and C. C. Vaughn, Jr., of Virginia National Guards, were interested spectators at the show.

FORMER PLAYERS DEFEAT INDIANS

Cambridge, Mass., November 16.—A team composed of last year's college football players, now attending the Harvard law school, demonstrated on Soldiers' Field to-day that they could "come back" with a week or two of practice, for by a score of 3 to 0 they defeated the Carlisle Indians.

It was a one-man contest, however, for F. B. Phillips, the best Yale halfback, ran the team from fullback position, where he took direct passes either for a dash around the end of his own account or to hurt a forward pass. In the first period, when he had driven Carlisle back to the fifteen-yard line, he dropped a pretty field goal for the only score of the game. Hamilton, the former Harvard captain, led the law school team, and was as strong on the defense as Phillips in the offense.

Crimson Squad Will Engage in Practice To-Day on Yale Field.

New Haven, Conn., November 16.—The arrival of the Harvard football eleven at Farmington tonight and the announcement by Captain Felt of the Yale team, that Vaughn, last season's left end, would be able to get into the game to-day, were the main features of the football situation here to-day.

There are thirty-seven players in the Harvard squad. The team will come to New Haven to-morrow, and have a secret practice of two hours on Yale field.

An announcement that Vaughn would be able to take part in Saturday's game was a welcome surprise to the Yale supporters. He was taken ill by influenza last year, and it was believed that he would never be able to play again. His experience with the airway Haven will materially strengthen the team. In the afternoon's scrimmage the varsity scored six times against the scrubs and freshmen.

Distribution of football tickets to the undergraduates was made to-day. There were no tickets left over, owing to the piling down of applications. Numerous offers for tickets at attractive figures from $2 to $10 were being made by outside to Yale men.

Big Offers for Tickets. Boston, Mass., November 16.—The demand for tickets for the Harvard and Yale football game, to be played on Saturday, has been so great that the supply that what few speculators have succeeded in gathering in a few are holding has been dropped out of the market.

Turn out this afternoon and see that game between the John Marshall High School and the Norfolk High School. The game will commence until 4 o'clock, and most any kind of a boss will let you off at that time of day without incurring any distant relatives who have dropped out of the market.

Now that we are in the shank of the football season, it is interesting to look back at the one on Thanksgiving Day and the one to follow on the Saturday after Thanksgiving. North Carolina and Virginia have made many of us come to the conclusion that Carolina and Virginia are more evenly matched than was believed. The Carolina-Virginia game is the local Princeton-Yale affair. If it were up to me to dole out the money, I would say that Carolina is the Yale of the coming game. It might be well to dwell further on the subject, but you know what Yale did.

Princeton was the favorite, and rightly so. If one is to rely on previous records, then Yale would be a right bet. But the old-fashioned attitude, doctoring up Kippitack, threw out a scare about Virginia being run in at the other end, and the present instance it looks like Virginia can't lose. But Carolina trains for but one game, and that game happens to be the one on Thanksgiving Day. Under the circumstances, it is a fair bet that the team that is to be built up in the first place, even though every other game on the schedule may be lost, will be the one to win. The game on Thanksgiving Day is the main purpose in mind, might prove disastrous against other teams.

If Brides is wise, and there are few who doubt his football wisdom, this is just what he has been doing all season. If his team wins on Thanksgiving Day, he will be acclaimed by the North Carolinians, at least, as the greatest football coach of the South. If he loses, he will be regarded as a failure. The explanation is easy.

Carolina has great individual ball team. Some of the men can carry the ball once or twice and make gains against any team. But if the defensive team wakes up and stops the ball, the game is over. The only question is to stop an individual. No one man can play against a team. It is a question of how many players in a team that is what Carolina has been doing all the season. If Brides gets his men to realize that the question is not how many players in a team, but how many players in a team that is what Carolina has been doing all the season. If Brides gets his men to realize that the question is not how many players in a team, but how many players in a team that is what Carolina has been doing all the season.

Richmond College, student body, football team, and building, are all in the line. Richmond-Macon shall not win the Eastern intercollegiate football championship. As Richmond College, at all, is the only team that has the Yellow Jackets, something is liable to happen. Richmond College was never profligate in its love for the Yellow Jackets, and it is especially on a football field. Mighty will be the clash when the two teams get together. If Randolph-Macon wins there will be no question as to whether or not the team deserves the victory.

I am asked to decide a bet. A bet B that the Portsmouth team in the Virginia State League would win the pennant in the 1910 season. Portsmouth did not win the pennant, and before the season was over the Portsmouth franchise was surrendered and the team transferred to Petersburg. When the members of the old Portsmouth team remained the same. Under these conditions I decide that A loses his bet. His opponent, who under Portsmouth won the pennant, and he would have won had Petersburg won the pennant. He would not have lost had Portsmouth started fresh from the time the franchise was surrendered. But there can be no question but that he lost the bet under the conditions as they existed.

Boston Jimmy Walsh put Sammy Keller, from London, if you please, out of the run.

PRESIDENT MAY LOOK AT GAME

Effort Will Be Made to Have Distinguished Guest at Regiment-Artillery Contest.

The football team from the Artillery School at Fort Monroe will meet the First Virginia Regiment team next Wednesday, the day on which President Taft will be in town. An effort will be made by Major Lawrence Price to have the President at the game. It cannot be definitely stated at this time that he will be there, nor is it hoped that he will sit the game through, but it is earnestly hoped that he may see fit to drive through the grounds during the progress of the game.

The interest which the President manifests in the school at the Virginia fort is well known, and it is believed that he will not pass by an opportunity to see the football team of his pet institution in action. Major J. C. Hemphill, of The Times-Dispatch, who, in the absence of Lieutenant Governor J. Taylor Eliason, will be in charge of the arrangements for the entertainment of the President, is unable to say at this time what disposition will be made of the time the President will spend in Richmond. Of course, his time will be limited, and as there will be any number of demands made upon the distinguished guest during the performance of "Ben Hur," no promise can be made. The President will largely dictate how his time is to be spent.

A visit of the President of the United States to the ball field will undoubtedly attract a large crowd, but even though it is found impossible to have him come up those stairs, the game will be a great success. The first Regiment has a strong aggregation of football warriors, and the same is true of the school on the coast. Both teams will try to win, and that goes without saying. But if President Taft should find it possible to come out it will indeed be a gala event.

LOVING CUP OFFERED IN BOWLING CONTESTS

Bowl With Blackstone

The Times-Dispatch bowling team has accepted a challenge to play the Blackstone team for a contest on Thanksgiving Day in Richmond. Captain Whitman has sent his reply to Captain W. L. Birch, of Blackstone.

Announcement was made last night before the Jewelers and the Plumbers got together in the second series of games arranged in the championship series of the Richmond Bowling Association, at the Newport Alley, that the Times-Dispatch had agreed to give a silver loving cup to the team winning the championship. The announcement was received with cheers by the rooters on hand. It was indeed a large crowd which came out to see the contest, and it was a crowd that was not at all backward in displaying its preferences.

The loving cup which this paper has decided to give in order to create interest in the sport will be displayed shortly, and information will be forthcoming as to where it may be seen.

Games Hard Fought. While the Jewelers won all three of the games played last night from the Plumbers, it must be gathered that the teams are not evenly matched. Just a glance at the scores of the three games will prove to the contrary. Both teams suffered from stage fright, and it just happened that the Jewelers recovered first. As a matter of fact, most any team would be frightened at the noise and hubbub which prevailed at the opening of the contest. Representatives of each of the other teams
